HETEROAGGREGATION PROCESSES IN COLLOIDAL PARTICLE AND CELL SYSTEMS

Shaker Verlag Aug 2010, 2010. Buch. Book Condition: Neu. 21x14.8x cm. Neuware - Motivated by the selective adsorption of functionalised drug carrier particles to certain cell types for medical applications this thesis investigates fundamental heteroaggregation phenomena under special consideration of the dynamic behaviour in physical and biological model systems. The adsorption of antibodies as possible functional moieties to receptors on cell surfaces represents an essential first step in a series of further transport limitations for the cellular uptake of functionalised...
