Excerpt: . . . ATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE Senator Gregg. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Medical privacy is an issue that affects every American, and yet prior to the passage of HIPAA in 1996, there was no Federal structure or law in place that would ensure that our medical information remains private. HHS has been working for several years to develop comprehensive rules that govern the use and disclosure of protected health information. This is no easy task, given the complexity and fragmentation of our health care system, including the fact that our private health care insurance system is employment-based and dependent upon a system of third party payers. I would like to commend the administration for proposing significant improvements to the rules. These changes provide important clarifications that will aid in implementation and compliance. Moreover, these changes will prevent the unnecessary and harmful disruption of a patients care that would have occurred under the existing rules, a very important point. Although the proposed rule would clarify or improve several different provisions, the most important proposed modification pertains to the consent and notice requirements on direct treatment providers. Under the existing rules, a patient would have to give prior written notice, prior written notice, to each and every provider that the patient sees or even schedules an appointment with. Not only would this requirement disrupt and delay care but the protection it would have provided is merely illusory because a provider could withhold care if the patient does not provide the consent. There are numerous examples of how, if unchanged, this requirement will harm or delay patient care. For instance, a patient referred to...
